1.30pm - 4.00pm

Venue: PDC, Room 101

Presenters: Mary Jones and Carolyn Lindsay

The training will address the following:

- Examine the role of the subject leader to support them in proactively driving progress and improvements in mathematics
- Identify systems that will allow leaders to manage the challenges and create opportunities to drive standards forward
- Create a valuable evidence base for school self-evaluation
- Basic training in the use of the DfE's Analyse School Performance (ASP), including understanding the tables/charts
- Explore the performance measures including floor targets and coasting measures and how school data can be analysed at school, subject and group level
- Know how ASP data is likely to be used at an OFSTED inspection
- Explore individual school data and identify strengths and next steps for Subject Leaders Action Plans
- Update on Local and National initiatives in Mathematics

The benefits of attending this training are:

- Subject Leadership will be enhanced and more strategic
- Delegates will be current with the most recent changes to school accountability and performance measures
- Delegates will have an opportunity interrogate their own school data and use the information to evaluate and adapt their Action Plans in the light of new priorities

This course is suitable for:

- Mathematics Subject Leaders and SLT
